Quinlan Palliative Care

Quinlan Palliative Care attends to the physical, functional, psychological, practical, and spiritual consequences of a serious illness. In collaboration with other healthcare providers, we will provide an extra layer of support to help patients and caregivers meet individualized goals of care, maintain continuity of care, and lessen symptom burden. That staff consists of palliative care experts, social workers, nurses, chaplain, and pharmacists who provide pain and symptom management, while you may also be undergoing treatment for your medical condition.

Patients who are part of the Quinlan Palliative Care program may receive help in navigating the healthcare system; professional guidance with difficult and complex choices; emotional, educational, and spiritual support for the entire family; care plan support; nursing services; and in-home blood testing.

Call 973-888-9100 or visit our website at www.quinlanpalliativecare.org for more information.

NAVIGATORS

END-OF-LIFE DOULA SERVICES

What is a Death/End-of- Life Doula?

End-of-life doulas provide non-medical, holistic support and comfort to the dying person and their family, which may include education and guidance as well as emotional, spiritual, or practical care, from initial diagnosis through bereavement. End-of-Life Doulas can work with clients before a terminal illness.

A Navigator – End-of-Life Doula Can Help With:

- Legacy Projects.
- Support family, reducing burnout and emotional fatigue/Facilitate meetings with chosen family.
- Educate about the stages of the dying process.
- Assist individuals with an end of life living plan.
- Explain what Advance Directives are and how to complete.
- And so much more!

For more information on our Navigators program and to request the services of an End-of-Life Doula please call 973-506-8233 or visit: QuinlanCare.org/Navigators

Quinlan Care Concepts

A Legacy of Love
Giving...so hospice may continue to help for generations to come.

Because Karen Ann Quinlan Hospice provides services regardless of the individual's ability to pay, the need for community support is tremendous.

As we honor each patient in life, we join you in honoring your loved one's memory. Donations in your loved one's name are gratefully accepted and acknowledged and will be dedicated to offering care and support to the patients and families in need of our help.

To designate memorial contributions, please give the signed statement (on the previous page) to your funeral home.

Any questions that you might have regarding memorials can be answered by calling Karen Ann Quinlan Memorial Foundation at 1-800-882-1117 or 973-383-0115.
